EMPLOYEE HIGHLIGHTS

Jennifer has been with the G3 team for over two years and recently celebrated her promotion to Permit Coordinator II. Jenn oversees all aspects of permitting at G3 Engineering. From project conception to construction close-out, she organizes submittals, permits, schedules and so on for multiple project teams. If and when she has available time, Jenn is always willing to pitch in on administrative and marketing related tasks. She truly is the example of what a team player should be within a company.

Permit Coordinator II

Jennifer Gotz

A graduate of Longwood University with a degree in Elementary Education, Jenn grew up in Edison, NJ, and lived in several coastal areas thereafter before calling Georgetown, SC, home. Jenn is an avid music lover, trivia trickster, movie muse, and an all-around comedian. She keeps the office environment cheery while maintaining structure amongst the project teams.

Jennifer brings a great dynamic to G3. She works hard and has fun and the team appreciates both!

Ashton joined G3 Engineering in August of last year and has quickly become a valuable asset to our administrative team. As the first face you see when you come through the office doors, she always greets visitors & staff with enthusiasm and professionalism. Ashton assists on almost all aspects of the business; billing, payroll, business development, marketing, in addition to all that is included in the 'Administration' role.

Local to the area, Ashton grew up in Georgetown, graduated from Georgetown High, and furthered her education at the University of South Carolina. She graduated USC with a BS in Business Administration, Marketing & HR Management and was also recognized on the Dean's List.

Ashton enjoys her time outside of the office going to the beach, boating, fishing, hunting, and cooking. She is such a great team member, and G3 thanks her for all her hard work!
